ABOUT THIS DATABASE

This database catalogs the presence or absence of 134 firearm law provisions in each state from 1991 to 2019. The 134 provisions are separated into fourteen categories—dealer regulations, buyer regulations, prohibitions for high-risk gun possession, background checks, ammunition regulations, possession regulations, concealed carry permitting, assault weapons and large capacity ammunition magazines, child access prevention, gun trafficking, domestic violence, preemption, immunity, and stand your ground laws.

Each observation consists of a state-year observation. Each observation contains 134 dummy variables representing each firearm law provision. A 1 indicates the presence of that provision in that year. A 0 indicates the absence of that provision in that year. Laws are coded based on their date of implementation, not their date of enactment.

Laws that might be perceived as being intended to protect gun rights as opposed to public health (i.e., stand your ground laws, immunity statutes, and preemption laws) are coded such that a 0 represents the presence of such a law and a 1 represents the absence of such a law. Thus, if a state adopts a stand your ground law, the code for that provision will change from a 1 to a 0 in the year in which the law went into effect. For example, if a state enacted a stand your ground law in 2001 that went into effect in 2002, the code for the "no stand your ground law" provision will be 1 from 1991 through 2001 and a 0 from 2002 through 2019.

Firearm laws that are repealed are reflected by a change in coding from 1 to 0 starting with the year in which the law was repealed.

Abstract

The State Firearm Law Database provides information on the presence or absence of 134 firearm law provisions in each of the 50 states for the period 1991-2019. Laws were coded using historical state statutes and session laws accessed from Thomson Reuters Westlaw. Laws are coded based on their year of implementation.

purge: Dealers can retain sales records for at least 60 days after firearm purchase

Description: The law does NOT require that dealers purge their sales records within 60 days of the firearm purchase. This may apply to handgun sales records, long gun sales records, or both.

Otherwise, it automatically gets a 0 for this provision. If there is some required reporting of sales records but state does not require that such records be purged within 60 days, then code this provision a 1.

relinquishment: People are required to relinquish their firearms after they become prohibited

Description: Law requires that upon becoming prohibited from possessing a firearm, a person must relinquish all firearms in their possession. This must be a broad provision that covers most, if not all, categories of prohibited people. For example, if the law only applies to mental health prohibitors, it is not considered to satisfy the requirements for having this provision. The law must explicitly require the relinquishment of weapons, not merely prohibit the possession of weapons.

Variable type: numeric, dichotomous Coding: Prior to 2018, California's law only included people determined to have a mental health condition, so it was not considered to have this provision. Wisconsin and West Virginia are not included because their laws only apply to mental health conditions. Colorado is not included because its law applies only to inmates upon discharge

Notes: This category is coded separately from mcdvsurrender and dvrosurrender. If a state's relinquishment law applies only to the domestic violence context, do not code relinquishment as a 1.

universal: Universal background checks required at point of purchase for all firearms

Description: Both licensed dealers and private sellers must conduct background checks at point of purchase for all firearms. This may or may not include exemptions for buyers who have already undergone a background check for a concealed carry permit or other licensing requirements. Background checks must be explicitly required.

Variable type: numeric, dichotomous

Coding: In some states, holding a license to purchase a firearm or a concealed carry permit exempt the buyer from a background check at point of purchase if a background check has already been conducted as part of the permitting process. This exemption is allowed, and the provision can still be coded as a 1 as long as it applies to all other sales.

gunshow: Background checks required for all gun show firearm sales at point of purchase

Description: Law requires background checks for all firearm sales at gun shows at point of purchase. This closes the gun show loophole for all firearm sales. Background checks must be explicitly required. Variable type: numeric, dichotomous

Coding: Some states enacted laws that closed the "private sale" loophole but only in the context of private sales at gun shows. Coding this provision a 1 means either that the state requires universal background checks at point of purchase for all firearms or that the state only requires background checks for private sellers at gun shows.

Notes: If universal background checks are required for all firearms, then code gunshow and gunshowh as a 1. If state only requires background checks for private sales at gun shows, then code universal and universalh as 0, and code gunshow as 1.

Coding this provision a 1 means either that the state requires universal background checks at point of purchase for all handguns or that the state only requires background checks for private sellers at gun shows.

This may or may not include exemptions for buyers who have already undergone a background check for a concealed carry permit or other licensing requirements. Background checks must be explicitly required.

Variable type: numeric, dichotomous

Coding: Use this variable as an indicator for states with "universal background checks" for all firearms. Notes: All states with universal background checks for all gun sales at point of transfer are coded as 1 for universalpermit in this row, and universalpermith is also coded as a 1. States that require background checks through the permit process for all gun sales are also coded as a 1 for universalpermit and universalpermith, but 0 for universal, universalpermit, gunshow, and gunshowl.

This may or may not include exemptions for buyers who have already undergone a background check for a concealed carry permit or other licensing requirements. Background checks must be explicitly required.

Variable type: numeric, dichotomous

Coding: Use this variable as an indicator for states with "universal background checks" for handguns. Notes: All states with universal background checks for handgun sales only at point of transfer are coded as 1 for universalpermith. backgroundpurge: State can retain background check records for at least 60 days

Description: The law does NOT require that the state purge its background check records within 60 days of the firearm purchase or permit application. This may apply to background checks for handgun possession, long gun possession, or both.

Coding: Under the Tiahrt amendments, federal law requires NICS to destroy background check records unless the purchaser is found to be prohibited from purchasing a firearm. This provision relates to a separate state law provision requiring the state to maintain its own background check records for at least 60 days.

Notes: State is only eligible for a point (code 1) if it requires SOME additional background checks beyond federal law (either universal, universalh, gunshow, gunshowl, universalpermit, or universalpermith has to be a 1). Otherwise, it automatically gets a 0 for this row. If there is some required reporting of background check records but state does not require that such records be purged within 60 days, then code this provision a 1.

threedaylimit: Background checks have more than a three day period to be completed

Description: Law requires that individuals undergo a background check when purchasing at least some weapons from private sellers, and extends the period in which a background check can be completed beyond the federal three day limit. May or may not apply to the purchase of handguns and may or may not extend the period beyond three days for licensed dealers.

Variable type: numeric, dichotomous

Coding: Under federal law, if a required NICS background check is not completed within three days, the seller is allowed to transfer the firearm to the buyer. Under this state law provision, the time period allowed to conduct the background check is extended beyond three days.

Notes: A state is only eligible for a point (code 1) if it requires SOME additional background checks beyond federal law (either universal, universalh, gunshow, gunshow, universalpermit, or universalpermith has to be a 1). Otherwise, it automatically gets a 0 for this provision.

mentalhealth: Background checks require a search of state mental health records

Description: Background checks for private sales are required for at least some weapons and there is an explicit requirement for search of mental health records. This may or may not apply to sales by licensed dealers.

Variable type: numeric, dichotomous

Coding: To be coded as a 1, the law must explicitly require a search of state mental health records. The simple authorization of law enforcement to search such records, or the simple requirement that a buyer consent to such a search, is not sufficient. States differ in the types of information collected and the extent of reporting to central databases. This provision refers to the requirement for a search of state records and does not measure the type of information collected or the extent of reporting.

Notes: A state is only eligible for a point (code 1) if it requires SOME additional background checks beyond federal law (either universal, universalh, gunshow, gunshow, universalpermit, or universalpermith has to be a 1). Otherwise, it automatically gets a 0 for this provision.

statechecks: State conducts its own background checks for all firearms

Description: Law requires state to conduct its own background check, not just the NICS check, for all firearm sales or permit applications. If at the point of purchase, must apply to gun show sellers and licensed dealers and may also apply to all other private sellers; if at the point of permit application, must apply to all licensed dealers and private sellers.

Variable type: numeric, dichotomous

Coding: A state serving as the point of contact for a NICS check is not enough to code this provision as a 1. The state must conduct its own background check using state records.

Notes: If state conducts its own separate background checks for all firearm sales, then code statechecks and statechecksh as a 1. A state is only eligible for a point (code 1) if it requires SOME additional background checks beyond federal law (either universal, universalh, gunshow, gunshowl, universalpermit, or universalpermith has to be a 1). Otherwise, it automatically gets a 0 for this provision.

If at the point of purchase, must apply to gun show sellers and licensed dealers and may also apply to all other private sellers; if at the point of permit application, must apply to all licensed dealers and private sellers.

Coding: A state serving as the point of contact for a NICS check is not enough to code this provision as a 1. The state must conduct its own background check using state records.

Notes: If state conducts separate background checks only for handgun sales, then code statechecks as a 0 and statechecksh as a 1. A state is only eligible for a point (code 1) if it requires SOME additional background checks beyond federal law (either universal, universalh, gunshow, gunshowl, universalpermit, or universalpermith has to be a 1). Otherwise, it automatically gets a 0 for this provision.

Description: Law requires a permit in order for an individual to carry a concealed weapon, or the law bans all concealed weapons.

Variable type: numeric, dichotomous

Coding: This provision is coded as a 1 if a permit is required for concealed carry OR if no concealed carry is allowed. If no permit is required to carry concealed handguns, then all variables in this category are automatically coded as a 0.

Notes: If concealed carry weapons are not allowed at all, then code both permitconcealed and mayissue as a 1. Also code showing, ccbackground, ccrenew, and ccrevoke as a 1 and code ccbackgroundnics as a 1 if the year is 1998 or later. Allowing limited discretion is not sufficient. States that do not allow concealed carry at all are coded as a 1.

An exemption for sale to relatives is acceptable.

Coding: Laws that merely prohibit the sale of firearms to a prohibited person do not count as trafficking laws. The law must prohibit the purchase and/or acquisition of firearms with the intent to re-sell. Law must apply to all prohibited persons, not just specified categories.

Preemption of these four areas, but just for handguns, is considered broad, but not complete preemption. Preemption of just firearm licensing and registration or just concealed carry permitting is considered to be narrow preemption, since it covers just one specific area of regulation. If there is preemption of local regulation of firearm sales, purchase, ownership, and possession for all firearms, it is considered to be complete preemption, even if local governments are permitted to regulate gun carrying in public places, taxation policy, or other areas.
